WILMINGTON POST

[ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT WILMINGTON, N. C., AS SECOND CLASS MATTER]

Latest.

The President on account of the pressure of public business declines the invitation to be present at the Centennial of the battle of Cowpens at Spartanburg South Carolina.

The United States Supreme Court previous to adjournment made a new allotment as follows: First Circuit, Justice Harlan; Second Circuit, Justice Hunt; Third Circuit, Justice Bradley; Fourth Circuit, Chief Justice Waite; Fifth Circuit, Justice Woods; Sixth Circuit, Justice Bradley; Seventh Circuit, Justice Harlan; Eighth Circuit, Justice Miller; Ninth Circuit, Justice Field. It will be perceived that Justice Harlan had the double work of the First and Seventh Circuits, and Justice Bradley the double work of the Third and Sixth Circuits. This is in consequence of the resignation of Justice Swayne and the long illness of Justice Clifford, which threatens not to permit him to sit again on that august bench.

What is thought of the late speech in the Senate of Senator Vance out of the state may be known by the following from the Louisville Commercial:

Mr. Vance, of North Carolina, delivered the speech which he announced on the 7th. Mr. Vance's oratory, both in manner and matter, is unsuited to the Senate chamber, as he himself appeared to realize to-day.

His speech was such a one as would have created wild enthusiasm among an audience of Democrats if it had been delivered on the hustings in North Carolina. His stale jokes, not to say blasphemous, stories and paraphrases would have been more keenly relished by such an audience than they were by those who heard them.

Commissioner Le Duc has received a number of packages of American teas from an experimental tea farm in South Carolina, and invited several tea dealers in this city and Baltimore to examine it. They pronounce it very good tea, and say it compares favorably with the East India teas.

Judge Thomas Settle opened the U. S. District Court at Pensacola, Florida, on Monday, but in the absence of the District Attorney all the criminal cases were continued until the next term in March 1882.

The second plenary sitting of the Monetary Conference was held on Wednesday. The discussion was opened by the German delegate declaring that he had changed his mind. Mr. Evarts and his colleagues, on the part of the United States, stated their purpose to visit England to confer with the authorities on the currency.

A GUSH IN THE SENATE.

In the Senate on Thursday four or five nominations were withdrawn, and three were confirmed. On the 4th Senator Dawes from his committee reported that they didn't yield an inch, and Mr. Conkling said the Senate could now adjourn in about ten days, after they had disposed of about 300 nominations and some treaties.

Call then put in a word, and then, as soon as the Vice-President announced that unfinished business was in order, Dawes was again on his taps. He was in his very happiest mood. He saw revolution growing out of his request for an acceptance of his report. It was an occasion when the members could gird up their loins and float on the pinions of anxiety, to the four quarters of the universe. The Capitol would be deserted and also both ends of the avenue.

When the 5th had arrived, the Senate in a fit of activity had confirmed about eighty-eight of the President's nominations, ratified the Chinese immigration treaty, then also the Commercial Treaty. The Senate next ratified in quick succession the extradition treaty with the United States of Colombia, the consular convention with Italy, the convention with Morocco, and the treaty with Japan relative to reciprocal duties of the United States and Japan in cases of shipwrecks upon their respective coasts.

And Dawes had telegraphed the following to the New England newspapers: "Please say to-morrow that all statements that I or any committee of which I am one, have advised the President to withdraw the nomination of Robertson, or that I have recommended to him or to the caucus that action on the nomination be postponed to another session, are false. The fabrication of facts at this end of the wire and those at the other end who use the fabrications as true, beat themselves, not me."

THE SENATE SATURDAY.

On May 6th the excitement had not abated at all, over the dead-lock, Senator Conkling was jubilant that the nominations were sent to the rear, and was mustering his forces for sending to the rear the whole 300. The President fired his bomb-shell, and declared that Robertson must be confirmed. He takes the ground that there is no sufficient reason for withdrawing Robertson. There is some talk that the emergencies of the situation now require another caucus, and it is not improbable that one will be held Saturday.—A very interesting question is, what will the President do with the candidates withdrawn in case Judge Robertson is confirmed. The President's friends say that in such an event he will renominate them, because not to do so would be a tacit acknowledgment that they were unworthy to be nominated at all. The President's motives as construed by his friends, in making the withdrawals, was to prevent the New York Senator from making any discriminations touching New York appointments.

It is certain, however, that public feeling is largely with the President.—Already he is in receipt of telegrams from all quarters and from Democrats as well as Republicans, endorsing his action. It is considered certain now that Robertson will be confirmed. A large proportion of the Democratic Senators will vote for him.

There may have been a Republican caucus on Saturday, which will put a different face on things, or prolong matters. In the meantime Conkling keeps a stiff upper lip.

At Albany among the Republicans the President's policy was the manifest one. They were comparing Garfield to a second Andrew Jackson.

SMITHVILLE ITEMS.

Thomas Morse, the son of Kit Morse, of Smithville, had a fight near the Methodist Church on last Sunday night with Edward Daniels. They were tried on Monday before Lewis Galloway, J. P., and found guilty and made to pay a small fine and costs. Such conduct ought to have been severely punished. We understand that this young man Morse is another of the Morse family who behaves very badly. Such men as Bryant Morse and Thos. Morse should be properly dealt with. Men who are in the habit of getting drunk, fighting, &c., are a public nuisance to any place. And the sooner the officers of the law find out that such men must be treated as other violators of the law the better it will be for Smithville. We suppose that the officers are afraid of the families of these fellows. If that is the case we hope the present Magistrates will be compelled by public opinion to do their duty. If public opinion will not have the desired effect, then an indictment by a Grand Jury might have. One good Justice of the peace would give Smithville the peace it ought to have. It is hoped by the citizens that the new Mayor will take hold of the matter and enforce the law.

The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Hon. Geo. B. Everitt as Collector of Internal Revenue for the 5th District of North Carolina, in place of Dr. Wheeler, notwithstanding the assertion of certain papers that he would not be confirmed. Mr. Everitt has made a very hard fight for the place and has at last succeeded, and we hope he will be able to perform his duty and enforce the law, which we have no doubt that he will do. He has many enemies, but he should recollect that a political enemy to-day may be a strong friend to-morrow, and act accordingly. A public office is not private property, it is the property of the people. The office should be run, in the first place, for the benefit of the whole people, and in the second place for the success of the office-holders' party. The federal positions in North Carolina have been considered too long already the private property of the holder for himself and his friends, regard'ess of the rights and benefits of the Republican party. But we hope this will now be stopped. Mr. Everitt will run the office of the 5th District in such a way as to enforce the law and do equal justice to all; but the patronage of the office we feel certain will be distributed in such a manner as to benefit the party of the state, and not certain individuals or members of his family. We shall have more to say about this party matter, concerning certain office-holders in North Carolina, in the future.

Col. E. W. M. Mackey (Republican) says that he intends to press his claims to the seat in Congress as Representative from the Second District of South Carolina, and will not consent to a new election, but that if a new election is ordered and he is elected, in spite of his refusal to be a candidate, he will accept that election and relinquish the old claim.

Twelve factories are running at Fall River now.

A LIVELY TIME AT CHARLOTTE.

Things were lively at Charlotte the day the vote was taken on prohibition. R. Y. McAden, one of the most eminent of the citizens of that flourishing city had used a free tongue on election day against a man named Markley, to the effect that he was a scoundrel, and the fellow "laid for him." As McAden came along towards his Bank, with a borrowed pistol in his pocket, Markley stood in his way, and began to strip off his coat, clinched McAden, who pulled the trigger of the pistol and it did not go off. Then everybody clinched, and it ended in putting the malcontents under bond, one, the assaulter, for $500, and two McAdens for $250 each. There is no report of any more fighting.

The election does not seem to have had any result at all. One party said that the anti-prohibitionists had the Board of Aldermen, and that the Mayor was a tie, and the old last year Aldermen soberly held sessions, and were still holding at last accounts, and prohi-bi-tion had fizzled.

ARMY MATTERS.

The Col. Pennington, who commanded at Smithville once, commanded the Division of Infantry at the Farragut dedication.——Major Graves who just left here was in the column ——Most people here will remember Major-General Crook, who was in command here in '66 and '67—since very famous as an Indian fighter. He gave a brilliant ball to the officers of Fort Omaha and adjacent city. We quote from a correspondent in the Army and Navy Journal, which shows the General is still gallant: The elegant residence of Gen. Crook was brilliantly illuminated, the rooms set apart for dancing were prettily draped with battle flags, while throughout the entire house the gorgeous floral decorations lent beauty and fragrance to the scene. The porches on both sides and in front of the building were enclosed with canvass, lighted with Chinese lanterns; the main stairway to the entrance was a covered way, illuminated by Chinese lanterns and tastefully festooned with the National emblem. In short there was nothing left undone that could please the eye and contribute to the comfort and pleasure of the guests. Gen. Crook, in the gorgeous uniform of Brigadier-General, and Mrs. Crook in a faultless evening toilette of black silk, en train, with white lace, received their guests in the south parlor, who began arriving at 8:20 p. m., and continued coming till past ten. The officers were in full dress uniform, wearing a boutonnier, which added to the effect of their showy uniforms.——Lieut. Robt. London is on a four months leave of absence.

Some of our Asheville friends who remember Mr. Geo. G. Sanborn will be pleased at the following which we clip from the St. Paul Pioneer-Press, who it says has been appointed local treasurer of the Northern Pacific, and that the "appointment is all the more complimentary to Mr. Sanborn in that it was made by direct vote of the directors of the company, who, it is understood, took this method to testify their high appreciation of his merits and abilities in another branch of the company's service, and their desire to retain so valuable an officer in its employ. His position is one of honor and responsibility, and the company could have made no more appropriate appointment or one more grateful to his friends."

STATE NEWS.

Fayetteville Examiner: A movement has been carried on lately by the R. & D. railroad, looking to the control of the C. C. Railroad in the interest of the former. It is felt that such control would be fatal to the interests of Wilmington, and the attempt of the Virginia corporation will be fought to the bitter end. A meeting of the Director, of the C C. Railroad was to have been held in Wilmington yesterday. I have not heard from it. Should the R. & D. Railroad obtain control of the Carolina Central, the guage of the road would be changed to correspond with the R. & D. road at Charlotte, (5 feet gauge) which would render a connection between the C. F. & Y. V. railroad and the C. C. railroad at Shoe Heel impracticable.——Judge Ralph P. Buxton is still in Washington.

THE GOOD SAMARITANS.—The Grand Lodge of the Good Samaritans, No. 2, met in this city on Tuesday last, and after a procession and an oration by C. S. Brown of Salisbury, elected their officers for the coming year. We have not been furnished with any information on which to base a report. But the the delegation from Newbern under charge of Mr. I. B. Abbott, who is the head of the Order in this state, made a very imposing appearance on their march through town, and were very cordially received.

Dr. Josh. Walker, Health Officer of Wimington, says that our informant in the matter charging him with neglect of duty, did him great injustice in stating that he had neglected John H. Wright, a poor sick man. Dr. Walker states that he found Wright in a destitute condition, furnished him with medicines, even paid himself for milk punches, and did everything that he could do for the man. We gave the statement as we received it, with the name of our informant. We are glad to hear from Dr. Walker that the statement, that he had failed to do his duty, was not true. We have known Dr. Walker for many years, pleasantly, and take pleasure in setting the matter right.

Senator Ransom will accept thanks for copy of Senatorial speeches.

He was at one time Professor of Chemistry in the School of Pharmacy in Baltimore, and adjunct Professor of Chemistry in the University of Maryland. For the past ten years Dr. DeRosset has devoted his talents to the treatment of diseases of the eye and ear, in which department of surgery he was eminently successful.

On Sunday last, as Mr Hanke Vollers, with a party of ladies and gentlemen in his carriage, were on their way to the Sound, and when about two miles from the city one of the horses attached to the carriage shied and ran off the embankment, taking with him the other horse, carriage and passengers all falling in a miscellaneous heap, with the passengers on top. THE SCROFULA AND CANCER REMEDY

Will be sent to any part of the country, by forwarding $3.50 to Prof. Wm. H. Moore, corner Front and Mulberry streets, Wilmington, N. C. I refer to the following indorsements:

Dawson's Landing,
Bladen County, N. C., Jan. 7, 1881.

I had been suffering with Dyspepsia and Kidney disease for the last 35 years, and it seemed impossible for me to get cured, but I tried a bottle of Prof. Wm. H. Moore's Liniment and Tree of Life, and it cured me entirely; and I feel it my duty to recommend it most highly for those complaints.

DAVID PEARSON.

Wilmington, N. C., March 5, 1881.

Prof. Moore—Dear Sir: The bottles of Tree of Life, Salve and Liniment I bought of you, certainly has effected a great cure in my case. It saved my life. Before I procured your medicine, I was helpless as an infant. Could not walk a step. My limbs and one foot was terribly swollen. By using a few bottles of your Tree of Life, Liniment and a few boxes of your Salve, it has made me a new woman, and my health has been entirely restored. My illness was in this condition for 22 years, and I never was relieved until I got your medicine. I recommend it to persons with like affliction.

Cure of an ulcerated sore foot of seven years standing.

Wilmington, N. C., April 1, 1881.

Prof. Moore—Dear Sir: My health for seven years was miserable, caused by an ulcerated sore foot. I was advised to try your medicines, and after taking six bottles of your Tree of Life, and five of your Liniment, and using five boxes of your Salve, I found, to my great delight and satisfaction, that my health was rapidly returning, and I am fully satisfied of its virtue, and most cheerfully recommend your Tree of Life, Liniment and Salve, to all who may be so unfortunate as to be afflicted with complaints of this character. My foot is entirely well, and I can walk on my foot as well as before I was afflicted.

Cure of a bad case of Scrofula on the face

Wilmington, N. C., Feb. 10, 1881.

Prof. Moore—Dear Sir: I think it a duty I owe you and my fellow-creatures who are suffering, to make known the wonderful effects your medicine has done for me. Hoping all who are troubled with humor in their blood, will give it a trial. I am confident, from practical experience, that if persons will follow the directions, and give it a fair trial, that it will cure any one that has diseases of like character. I suffered with Scrofula for 19 years. The pain it gave me no mortal man knows. I was in agony all the time. I used to think if I did not use every remedy, and let any man, that was the very one to cure me, that at last the angel appeared in your great medicine, and am most happy to state your remedies have done the work for me. It is a great blessing, and I am now as free from the disease as I was before I was taken with it.

I was troubled with the Pleurisy for a year or more, and also with pains in my arms. I could get nothing that would give me ease until I procured a bottle of Mr. Wm. H. Moore's Liniment, and one bottle entirely relieved me. It is the best remedy for pains of that kind that I ever tried.

REV. JOHN MURRAY.

Wilmington, N. C., Jan. 19, 1881.

I had been suffering with headache and a dreadful pain in the head and shoulder, and by taking a bottle of Prof. Wm. H. Moore's Tree of Life, and by rubbing a half a bottle of his Liniment for the above complaints, it cured me entirely.

CHA MCNEIL.

I also hold many other certificates from gentlemen in this State, certifying to the cure of Cancer, and other diseases, by use of my remedies.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

W. P. CANADAY, Proprietor.

WILMINGTON, N. C.,

SUNDAY MORNING, MAY 8, 1881.

And now old Simon Cameron, here in years, comes back like some old Acestes peopling, and lighting modern skies with brilliant and blazing arrows. His gray hairs and unerring archery are attracting the gaze of fresher but not hardier warriors.

The Richmond Whig in a well considered article as to what the real, just debt of Virginia is, comes to the conclusion that it is $20,440,783.26. This the Whig claims is less than the Riddleberger bill as assumed in it on July 1, 1881. But it insists that the real debt of the state is $15,352,699.20, if the six per cent war interest is excluded. The Whig is the organ of Mahone and we suppose that this is the Mahone basis to be assumed in discussing the adjustment of the real debt by the Readjusters, and those allied with them.

Noah Webster came very near being Washington's private secretary. Some old letters show it. It was about 1783, when Noah Webster was teaching school, that a mutual friend applied to him to take the position of tutor and private secretary in the family of Washington. A correspondence was begun and five or six letters were exchanged, Washington stipulating that the applicant should keep his books, teach three children (the Custis children, probably) and act as his secretary.

Congressman Dezendorf, the Republican member from the Norfolk district Virginia argues to the Committee of Safety that the Republicans hold their organization intact and that Jorgensen, Judge Hughes, ex-Senator Lewis and other prominent Republicans agree with him. Why, of course. Dissolution or an attempt at absolute union, on the part of the Republicans or Readjusters, would be absurd. Let them maintain their integrity and act together, as they have been doing. Senator Mahone seems to be reasonable on the whole subject.

The Richmond Whig, in answer to a correspondent called "Civis" gives the following statement of the purpose of the Riddleberger bill: The Riddleberger bill proposes to pay this just debt of Virginia—the amount it assumes even covering the war interest—and, if it fixes the future rate of interest at 3 per cent., that certainly is a proposition which the honest creditor, knowing our past history and our present condition, will gladly accept as not only fair and equitable, but as a final settlement which saves him (Civis) from the sharks that would devour him and Virginia alike with impartial voracity.

GARFIELD VS. CONKLING.

When General James A. Garfield was nominated at Chicago by the representatives of the Republicans of the United States—the largest convention ever held in this country—he was made the head of the party of the county. And when he was elected in November 1880, he was made Chief Magistrate of the Republic and head of the nation. It was not intended by the convention, or the people who elected him, that he should be a subordinate to any other man; but it was understood that he should be the arbitrator in all matters coming up for settlement. He was not nominated and elected as a faction President, to be bossed by certain ambitious and dictatorial politicians.—The people had confidence in General Garfield or he would not have been successful; therefore the people will be very much disappointed if he should be bulldozed by the lordly threats and bombastic utterances of Senator Conkling.

Senator Conkling went to Chicago with his candidate, but a very large majority of the convention did not indorse him. And, now, after the convention has given Senator Conkling and his lieutenants to understand that the country did not desire their leadership, for them to come forward and demand the right to dictate to the President is an outrage upon common decency. President Garfield has done everything that he should do for harmony. He has put one of Senator Conklings favorites (Mr. James) in his Cabinet; another as Second Assistant Postmaster-General, and all the state appointments from New York have been taken from Senator Conkling's faction of the party, except Judge Robertson. And Senator Conkling proposes to fight, and, in fact, is fighting President Garfield on account of the nomination of Judge Robertson to be Collector of Customs for the port of New York. Judge Robertson is a leader of the faction in New York politics opposed to Senator Conkling. He led the Blaine delegates from New York state at Chicago, and it is due to his able management as much as any other man for successfully defeating Senator Conkling, and in nominating Gen. Garfield; and in our opinion the President would have acted very badly toward this gentleman if he had done less for him than the Collectorship.—When the matter narrows down between the President, who is acting, not from any selfish motives, but for the good of the party that elected him, as well as for the nation, and a man who is controlled by the extreme malice of a rival, as Senator Conkling has shown himself to be, every man who loves his party and fair dealing, will decide in favor of the President.

Senator Conkling is a man of very great ability, in fact, he stands with but few, if any, equals to-day in point of oratory and eleganze, in the United State. All admire his greatness, but the fact that he puts on so many airs, and is so dictatorial in his manners, he has but few personal friends and associats. But he has measured swords this time with a man equal to himself in point of ability and elegance, and who has, besides, popular manners. All who come in contact with President Garfield admire him for his superior abilities, respect him for his gentlemanly manners, and love him for his purrity of character. Between two such men, one trying to drive by his dictatorial bombast, the other trying to to win by the gentleness of his argument, no true man will be long in deciding which he will follow.

Senator Conkling had a fight with President Hayes, and failed; but he had the sympathy of a majority of the Republicans of the country at that time, from the fact that all looked upon Messrs. Arthor and Corneil as good officers, and men who were entitled to better treatment at the hands of the President. But this time he has not the sympathy or respect of even a respectable minority of the Republicans of the country, for we all look upon Gen. Garfield as a stalwart, and a man who believes in standing by his party of the whole country. He has the conficence of all true Republicans, which President Hayes did not have, his action toward southern Republicans in forsaking them after they had imperiled their lives for his election, was sufficient cause.

But the difficulty between two such emminent members of the Republican party is to be very much regretted by every member of the party. And it is to be hoped that such able and conservative, but stalwart Republican Senators as Hon. John Sherman and Judge Edmunds, may be able to so arrange the matter that it will not damage the party at large.

IS MAHONE IN TROUBLED WATERS?

It has all along been understood that the administration was friendly to Mahone. A telegram from Washington manages to say that there is "strong opposition in various quarters to placing the entire patronage of the state at the disposal of Mahone's friends." We never heard that anybody ever dreamed of so absurd a thing as a political combination where four-fifths of the voting was to be done by one element, and all the offices and patronage were held by the other fifth. The Readjuster vote of Virginia is about 24,000, and the Republican vote is about 84,000, as by the last voting. It would be to suppose that the Readjusters, including Mahone, are demented or imbecile if they would consent to any such unequal division of patronage themselves. Of course any man of sense who understands the political situation in Virginia, is aware that there is no possibility of either the Readjusters or the Republicans combining with the Bourbons. The two remnants of the old factions are deadly hostile. They have nothing in common, in a political sense. They will no more mix than oil and water. The Republicans and the Readjusters, led by Mahone, are liberal all over, and progressive to the backbone.

There is always more or less difficulty in bringing two or more factions, heretofore at loggerheads into that sort of harmony out of which will be educed a majority. It was a long process in all the northern states previous to the war. Out of it came John P. Hale, Hamlin, Sumner, Wilson, Chase, old Ben. Wade, and others, in the earlier times, and, indeed, the whole conglomerate known as the solid Republican party in the north. The possibilities are now in the south, as they were then in the north. The southern population is not always to be hide-bound, sore-headed and thick-headed, holding on to old notions and antiquated theories. Even now there are evidences of a new shaking up among her people. There is less fear of the ostracisms of parties and cliques and factions, and more freedom to the young and buoyant southern brain to think on its own account, than ever before. The Mahones and the Gary's, who have appeared in two different states, and those who are not now afraid of shadows, nor lamentations, nor gloomy forebodings, are breeding new and seething volumes of free opinions, and lighting new and more glorious torches of aspiration.

An Italian writer says that our modern millionaires are nowhere in comparison with some of his countrymen, as follows: Mark Antony spent $1,000,000,000 in merely sowing his wild oats; Nero gave $100,000,000 in presents to his friends; Heliogabalus gave a dinner that cost $100,000; the toilet of Agrippina on a special occasion footed up to $1,500,000, and her box of jewels at home was worth $200,000,000.

THE CONFUSION IN THE SENATE.

The dead-lock which has prevented the confirmation of the President's nominations is not very nearly approaching a solution. There has been a Committee of Safety created and they have consulted and reported to a Republican caucus to the effect that the Senate proceed to executive business in the following order:

1. The reference of nominations now on the table, to appropriate committees.

2. The consideration of pending treaties.

3. The consideration of all nominations heretofore or hereafter reported from the Senate committees which are not objected to by one Republican Senator from the state to which the office appertains or from which, in case of a national or a territorial appointment, the nominee is to be approved.

It was further expressly provided that as soon as the uncontested cases shall have been disposed of, the caucus shall again assemble for the purpose of determining what additional business shall then be considered by the Senate, and that although in the meantime the contested cases, as above defined, shall not be allowed to impede the transaction of other business, the caucus is left wholly unpledged as to its future action with regard to them.

Nothing was done about the contested cases nor the Senate offices.

This is the status on the morning of the 4th of May, as per telegraph to the Southern Associated Press, and the news in the metropolitan papers which nowadays comes close on its heels. There seems to be a belief on the part of Mr. Conkling and his friends that he can hold the Senate.—He thinks that the votes stand thus in the committee on Commerce: For Robertson's confimation—Senators Conger, Coke and Vest; against confirmation—Senators Conkling, McMillan, Jones, of Nevada, Kellogg, Ransom and Farley. They say, therefore, that Mr. Conkling can very easily prevent the consideration of this nomination at the present session, because "Senatorial courtesy" and precedent would prevent the success of a motion to discharge the committee from its consideration should such a motion be made.

ENTERTAINING A DUKE.

On the invitation of Secretary of State Blaine, the Duke of Southerland and party, Lord Thornton and most of the Diplomatic Corps, the Vice-President, Admiral Porter, Gen. Sherman, the Cabinet, several Senators, Solicitor-General W. E. Chandler and wife, and others, proceeded on board the U. S. steamer Dispatch from the Navy Yard where they embarked down the Potomac to Mount Vernon, to visit the tomb of Washington.

Salutes were fired, various flags of the Diplomatic Corps were displayed, with the flag of the Secretary of the Navy at the main. The party spent three hours on the sacred precincts of Mount Vernon, and returned at about dark up the river, amid salutes from Naval vessels, having lunched on the way.

RANDOM ITEMS.

Reports received at the Treasury Department show that the exports of merchandise from the United States for the year ending with the beginning of April is the largest of any year since the foundation of the government. The aggregate for the year named amounts to $912,257,025, estimating the exports for April, and the aggregate for the thirteen months amounts to fully $1,000,000,000, or more than half of the public debt.

The Hon. Robert C. Winthrop of Massachusetts, who delivered the oration at the laying of the foundation stone of the Washington Monument, was upon the top of the unfinished shaft the other day with his wife and daughter. The shaft at present is higher than Bunker Hill Monument. The final height will be nearly or more than 600 feet.

Mrs. Kilpatrick desiring to go back to Chili, the friends of the Generalare pressing him for that Ministry. But the friends of Mr. Osborne of Kansas, have convinced the President that the Chilians prefer his retention to the appointment of any new man. During the war between Chili and Peru Mr. Osborn's performance of delicate duties intrusted him by the State Department was such as to command the respect and admiration of the Chilian authorities, and his record in the diplomatic service has been excellent.

It is stated that a very large number of negro escaped exodusters from northern Louisiana have been seized, handcuffed, placed in box cars and carried back to the plantations, powerless and under this violence. The exodus from Mississippi is reported greater than ever before. They are seized on some trumped up charge of debt or something and dragged back by the ruling class with great violence.

Butler, the "irrefragable," undertook to reply to Senator Frye of Maine, and charged the Maine Republicans with buying up voters "by fraud." Senator Frye being absent in Maine on business, his colleague, Senator Hale, telegraphed home, procured ample and complete denial of the alleged "bargain and sale" of voters under full investigation. "He closed with a strong statement of the issues between the parties as to political methods in the south. He declared that if it were not true that men were murdered for political reasons in the south, and that fraud and violence existed there, then most irrefragable evidence, that had filled volumes of records of Congressional investigation committees was a tissue of lies. This could not be. It was established beyond a question. In denying it the southern Senators did not deny a point any longer of the subject of controversy but simply a fact of history. They might as well deny the horrors of the Black Hole or the enormities of the Inquisition as to deny the outrages in the south. Still they hoped to convince people that the charges were false by a long continued and constantly reiterated denial. This would not do. It failed to answer the argument, and public simply lost confidence in their veracity. They must take another tack, and cease denying what had been proved time and again before they could enjoy the confidence of the country."

In Memory of General Gary.

A northern lady sent last week a wreath of immortelles to be placed over the grave of General M. W. Gary, as a tribute of a northern woman to a brave man. No higher mark of respect has been paid to the distinguished South Carolinian, who has so recently and so suddenly gone from among us. Although every newspaper in South Carolina, without exception, has done honor to the gallant dead, nothing more touching than this has been done. It will be many a day before we shall see another General Gary. Nobody knew how much he was beloved until he was dead.—Press and Banner.

Senator Wade Hampton's admissions concerning the impurity of the ballot in South Carolina seemed very frank. But the attitude of the Democratic Judges of the Supreme Court of that state is quite as significant. The court has had before it an appeal on what is known as the Charleston county election case. The only question involved was whether three unscrupulous politicians of Charleston county should be allowed to transgress the law. These men threw out seven boxes at the recent election, thereby disfranchising 3,637 Republicans and electing the entire Democratic county ticket. Law and justice were on the side of the Republicans, the fear of offending Democratic politicians was on the other side. The Judges were in a dilemma. The Constitution of the state requires that the Judges of the Supreme Court shall file their decisions within sixty days after the expiration of the term. This period has elapsed, and the Judges have made no sign. They have "pocketed" the whole case, and, according to Senator Hampton's notions, they have suppressed the cause in order that "good government" shall prevail thro' fraud.

One by one the "Radical lies" of the past are being vindicated. When the ku klux outrages were unfolded in Republican newspapers, the whole Democratic party north and south denounced the horrible statements as "Radical lies." A few years later the members of the ku klux confessed their crimes, and it was then seen that the only defect in the "Radical lies" was that they did not paint the picture black enough. After the ku klux came the ballot-box stuffers with their hands full of tissue ballots. When the Republican newspapers exposed the crime, the same Democratic chorus was heard again shouting "Radical lies!" Now Wade Hampton confesses that the "lies" were simple truth, and the leading Democrat journals of the south cry amen to him. Let the penitential work go on. The northern Democrat still holds aloof, but while the lamp holds out to burn there is hope even for him. —Tribune.

A London real estate journal says: "Signs of the distressful agricultural times are plentiful. We hear of a market garden farm of 200 acres, not 40 miles from London, the rent of which has been reduced from 25s. to 11s. per acre. An adjoining farm has been let on a seven years' lease, free for the first three years, while during the remainder of the term the rent will be 7s acre. Another large farm, with a good residence, is let for £70 a year, and the tenant relets the shooting for £60. In the Midlands there is not the same inclination to let land for what it will fetch. Here it is that 30 000 acres in Leicestershire are said to be still in hand. Rents in that county have been very high, and rather than let their farms at lower rates landlords prefer to sell the crops and grasses annually by auction at very uncertain prices."

Advertising Chemis.

It has become so common to write the beginning of an elegant, interesting article and then run it into some advertisement, that we avoid all such cheats and simply call attention to the merits of Hop Bitters in as plain honest terms as possible, to induce people to give them one trial, as no one who knows their value will ever use anything else.—Providence Advertiser.

The Cunard Line steamers Scythia and Malta, which sailed from Liverpool on Saturday last, the 30th ult., for New York, took out more than a thousand emigrants, most of whom are foreigners; a large number being Swedes. The Cunard Company has arranged for dispatching four vessels to American next week, all of which are expected to be filled with emigrants.

A Nihilist Manifesto.

BERLIN, May 2.—Intelligence from St. Petersburg reports that a Manifesto of the Nihilist Executive Committee printed on the 17th of April says:

The verdict against the Nihilists who have just received a Martyr's Crown was dictated as well as confirmed by the Czar. The first act of his autocratic will thus has been the hanging of women. Without waiting for his coronation he has sprinkled his throne with the blood of champions of national rights. Over the graves of our colleagues we publicly affirm that we will continue our efforts for the liberation of the people. We will no more be deterred by the gallows than were Solovieff and the other champions of the last reign.

After the event of the 13 of March the Executive Committee informed the Emperor that the only means of reverting to the path of peaceful development was by appeal to the people.—Judging by the execution the supreme power has elected to appeal to the hangman. So be it.

The committee defers pronouncing any judgment on the general policy of the Emperor, but it declares that a reactionary policy will lead to consequences more disastrous than the event which took place in March. The Manifesto concludes by appealing to all who would shake off slavery to co-operate in the struggle for liberty.

Chufa Culture.

W. L. Goodwin, of Sampson county, writes to the Cotton as follows: "Four years ago I broke us some broom-straw old field, intending to set out some vines on it and did so, this being very poor and sandy land it would not make more than three bushels of corn to the acre. Hearing of the chufa and it being recommended to be adapted to poor land, I set out and obtained seed. I planted two acres in chufa and the result was I fattened two thousand pounds of pork on the two acres. The next year I let that two acres lay out and planted two other acres with the same result, and last year I planted the same two acres again with the addition of one half acre and the result is I have killed two thousand five hundred and thirty-five pounds of pork and have one hog yet to kill. I used one bag of Pacific guano on the two acres each year. Remember this, farmers, two thousand pounds of pork fattened on two acres of poor sandy land."

Georgia.

The new King Manufacturing Company at Augusta, to which we referred last week, has a capital of $750,000. It is proposed that the capacity of the mill shall be 30,000 spindles. No site has as yet been selected, although a number of very fine ones are yet unoccupied. The corporators consist of a number of the most prominent and successful men of Augusta. The charter will be filed at once. It is said there is reasonable hope of $350,000 to start with, and it is believed that the entire stock can be placed in Augusta, Savannah and Charleston within thirty days after the company is organized. The rapid rise in stocks induced many to sell out, and there is now a large amount in the three cities seeking good investment such as that offered by the King Manufacturing Company. Mr. Estes believes that the entire water power of the canal will be utilized in less than five years, and Augusta will then be not only the greatest manufacturing city in the south, but one of the greatest in the United States.

Do not spend your precious time in wishing and waiting for something to turn up. If you do, you may wish and watch and wait forever. You can do it if you will, but you must put forth the effort. Idleness and indifference never accomplished anything. It takes energy and push to make headway in the world. And an active, energetic, persevering man is sure to succeed.—If he cannot do one thing he will do something else. If he cannot succeed in one direction, he will in some other. He will do something. He will not waste his time in idleness. There is no lack of work, no lack of opportunities. Do what comes to your hand, and do it well. True progress leads, from the less to the greater. You must begin low if you would build high. Work is ordinarily the measure of success. Quit resolving and re-resolving: Go and do something.—Cowper.

Although Dr. J. Gwin Jeffreys has, during a period of between forty and fifty years, dredged, as an explorer, all the seas of the British Isles besides a considerable part of those on the coasts of North America, Greenland, Norway, France, Spain, Portugal, Morocco, and Italy, he never found anything of value except to a natralist, nor any human bone, although many thousand human beings must have perished in those seas. The gems, "dead bones," etc., that were thought to form the floor of the ocean appear to exist only in the imagination of the poets.

The first case of trichinosis ever developed here made its appearance in Allegheny last Tuesday night. Frank Knize that evening ate freely of pork that was not well cooked. About two hours after he grew violently sick, and terrible pains spread over his entire body. He was next taken with vomiting and purging, passing blood and small pieces of flesh. A physician was summoned, who pronounced the disease trichinosis, and upon submitting a small piece of flesh to the microscopical test, in a network of small muscles 17 trichinia were found. Proper remedies were administered, and the patient is slowly improving. Knize refuses to state from whom he purchased the pork.

"Know what 'good society is? I reckon I do?" cried Mr. Grit. "Why I've been put out of more than twenty as swell affairs as ever were gotten up in this city."—Boston Post.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, MAY 8, 1881.

Jute Culture in Louisiana.

In 1873 the amount paid for jute imported into the United States was $4,500,000; in 1880, for the year ending June 30th, it was $7,000,000; and this year it will, in all probability, reach the round sum of $10,000,000. Jute is an annual plant of the order tiliaceæ, and of the genus corchorus capsularis. Its stem is from one-half inch to one inch in diameter, grows to the height of ten or twelve feet, is very straight, and branches only at the top. It has sharply serrated lanceolated leaves, about six inches long and nearly two inches wide. The flowers have five sepals and five petals. The stamens are numerous, but they have only one pistil. The bark is fibrous, like that of hemp or flax, and it is the fibre that is used. It is more soft and silky than either flax or hemp, and is very fine—that is, capable of minute subdivision—and its being so fine and of such great length causes it to be sometimes woven with silk in cheap fabrics. The seed is sown in March or April, and it may be cut in June, July and August.

Jute is used to make coarse cloth, mattings, cheap carpets, burlaps, coarse bagging, gunny, rice bags, coffee sacks, and like articles. It is not good for ropes, as it cannot stand the weather; yet our hemp ropes are frequently adulterated with jute. When the waterfall for the head was in fashion, many were the switches which were made of jute instead of flax, as was often said.

Gunny is the name of the coarse cloth used to bale cotton. The yield of this year's cotton is set down at 6,250,000 to 6,400,000 bales. Each bale takes about seven yards of gunny, hence 6,000,000 bales of cotton alone require 42,000,000 yards of cloth made from the fibre of the jute plant. This is one item, and the largest, but to it we must add the bagging for the increasing rice crop, and for wheat and coffee and pepper, until the whole catalogue is filled.

It is a settled fact that many of the southern states have splendid jute-growing lands. California realizing the benefit of its culture, has been bagging her own products from her own soil for several years, and it is said that a jute manufactory will soon be started in New Orleans. The jute plant is considered a sure crop in Louisiana. It is no harder to raise than corn, and the time of harvesting comes just about the time when the cotton planter could cleverly put his farm force to the cutting of jute, and thus few extra hands would be needed. To cultivate it is light labor, the rank growth causing it to overshadow every thing else in the field, and the yield is, to say the least, wonderful.

An American company has been formed to build a line of railroad in Mexico to be called the Sinaloa and Durango Railroad. It is to extend from Altata on the Gulf of California, 120 miles north of Mazatlan, to the city of Durango, in the state of the same name, a distance of about 220 miles. At Durango it will connect with the Mexican Central Railroad, which will extend from the City of Mexico to the American frontier at El Paso. It is proposed to begin at once the construction of forty miles of the new line from the port of Altata to Culiacan, the capital of the State of Sinaloa. Surveying parties will leave New York in a few days for the purpose of running the line from Culiacan to the plateau of Durango. The company has received a valuable concession from the Mexican Government, which has also granted valuable privileges. It was organized in Boston, and the capital stock has been already subscribed in New England and New York. The officers of the company are: President, Thomas N Hart, Boston; Vice President, Robert R Syman, New York; Treasurer, S W Richardson, Boston. E P North has been appointed chief engineer and general superintendent. The mines in gold and silver within the range of this road produce annually $4,000,000. The harbor which is one terminus of this road, has great depth of water.

It has been intimated in some quarters that the one hundred and first call for bonds would probably be revoked by Secretary Windom. This call was issued by ex-Secretary Sherman, and embodied $25,000,000 in five per cent. registered and coupon bonds. There is no foundation for the supposition that the call will be revoked, and as a matter of fact it can be stated that the Department is desirous of redeeming the bonds embraced in the call, in order to reduce the revenues on hand for the purpose. The bonds which were included in the call continue to come in for redemption quite slowly. A large number of six per cent. bonds were received at the Department to-day to be continued at three and one-half per cent. (at the option of the government), in accordance with the recent circular of Secretary Windom. The daily receipts will probably be made public, commencing some time this week.

A Loosing Joke.

A prominent physician of Pittsburg said jokingly to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health and of his inability to cure her, "try Hop Bitters." The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.—Harrisburgh Patriot.

The North American Review for May contains a striking article by the Hon. David Dudley Field on "Centralization in the Federal Government." That our policy is rapidly advancing in the direction of centralization is demonstrated by the author; but whether centralization is really a formidable evil or only a bugbear is a question which men will probably continue to decide according to their several political predictions. Whatever the reader's bias, Mr. Field's paper will command his respectful attention, and it will be read with interest and profit. The second article is upon the new revision of the Bible, by the Rev. Dr. Schaff, of the American Committee of Revision. Mr. Justice Strong writes of "The Needs of the Supreme Court," and advocates the establishment of a court of appeals, intermediate between the U. S. Supreme Court and the circuit courts. The Hon. George Q Cannon, the first advisor of the President of the Mormon Church, and delegate to Congress, makes a vigorous defence of "Utah and its People." The question, "Shall Americans build Ships?" is considered by Mr. John Roach, the ship-builder, who brings forward a large number of facts to prove that the people of the United States must build ships if they would hold a place among maritime nations. The other articles are "The Life-Saving Service," by the Hon. S. S. Cox; "The Ruins of Central America," by M. Charnay; and finally, an attack on evolution philosophy, written in a vein of the finest irony, and entitled, "What Morality Have We Left?"

A popular hotel clerk in Boston is dead. He never stood more than twenty minutes with his back to the patient stranger, and his diamond pin was so moderate that the owner of the building never sunk to the floor on beholding him. The traveling public is dropping tears as long as toothpicks in anticipation of his successor.

An Irishman, fresh from the old country, saw a turtle for the first time, and at once made up his mind to capture it. The turtle caught him by the finger, and he, holding it out at arm's length, said, "Faith, and ye had better let loose the howlt ye have, or I'll kick ye out of the very box ye sit in, be jabbers!"

There is probably a revolution going on in Santo Domingo. The Spanish mail steamer was not allowed to enter the port of the capital under the pretext of the insalubrity of the place. The crew noticed much unwonted commotion among the people on shore.

He drew his breath with a gasping sob; with a quavering voice he sang; but his voice leaked out and could not drown the accompanist's clamorous bang. He lost his pitch on middle A, he faltered on lower D, and foundered at length like a battered wreck adrift on the wild, high C.—Burlington Hawkeye.

The young milkman and his girl stood before the Justice of the Peace. "You take this milk—ahem—this man for butter or for worse?" the mighty man of the law inquired. The girl said it never a-curd to her before, but she supposed she would if that was the only whey.

The Elmira Free Press says that "Adam was the first man that was evicted," but as that paper failed to spell it "Eve-icted" is allowed an opportunity to unpardonably slip away.—New Haven Register. Yes, we recollect; Adam paid no rent, and his absentee Landlord compelled him to leave early in the fall.

A country darkie who had been in the habit of coming down on rafts, went to one of our respectable citizens and asked him to sign his bond. "What is the bond for?" asked the citizen. "P'lief," said the country darkie, "its some of Joe Hill's foolishness that he kalls speckery lawyuressny."

An Athenian, who was lame in one foot, joining the army, was laughed at by the soldiery on account of his lameness. "I am here to fight," said the hero, "not to run."

Charles Reade: The fortunate man is he who, born poor, or nobody, works gradually up to wealth and consideration; and, having got them, dies before he finds they were now worth so much trouble.

LIVER PILLS

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

The Board of Directors of the Duplin Canal Company held a meeting in this city last Wednesday, at which they electcd the following officers to serve for the ensuing year:

President—Wm. Larkins.

Vice-President—W. T. Bannerman.

Superintendent—W. L. Young.

Treasurer and Collector for New Hanover County—J. L. Boatwright.

GREAT VICTORY OVER THE BOURBONS.

Municipal Election—A Democratic Defeat.

The election on Monday for six Commissioners for Tarboro, for twelve months, (as will be seen elsewhere) resulted in the election of four Republicans and two Democrats, thus giving the town government to the Republicans for the first time in five years. The First Ward is overwhelmingly Democratic; the Third as preponderatingly Republican, so there was little interest manifested in them.

The tug of war and battle field lay in the Second Ward. Here Messrs. McCabe and Williamson were elected by majorities ranging from 1 to 4.

It is needless to discuss the causes of this, but it is well known that at least one Democrat would have been elected had it not been for an erroneous decision by the poll-holders in the challenge case of the Messrs. Taylors. Again we hear of Democratic disaffection on account of the prohibition question, as the Republican candidates were supposed to represent the "wet" side.

"They say" that Col. Cotten will be replaced by Mr. A. McCabe for Chief of Police and that H. S. Spragins will be made a Commissioner in his stead, and that Mr. J. M. Spragins will be appointed Clerk vice Ed. Pennington, Esq.

We have been informed by Messrs. McCabe and Williamson, that no objectionable men shall be appointed to office, and, in the town government, nothing political shall control.

Col. Cotten has made us a good officer and many are the regrets at the prospect of losing him.

TARBORO, May 5, 1881.

EDITOR POST:—The above is clipped from the Southerner of to-day, and to say the least is a very mild way it has of announcing their defeat, and it is a notable defeat too, for since 1875 when our town, then overwhelmingly Republican, was so outrageously gerrymandered in order to give its control to the old Bourbon element the Republicans have been constantly defeated, but now our turn has come and we intend to show them that such wrongs as they have perpetrated upon us cannot succeed. I am confident our new town government will be a good one, and you may rest assured that it will be so conducted as to inure to the benefit of the people generally, and reflect honor upon the party that has so nobly rescued our good old town from Democratic misrule. See how the Southerner puts it. "Had it not been for the erroneous decision by the poll-holders, &c." These same poll-holders, all good citizens and men of standing and wealth, and a majority of whom were of course Democratic, and having the best legal ability of the town to aid and assist them, made an erroneous decision. Why of course they did, but would it have been as bad if two Republican votes could have been thrown out? Oh, no! The inuendo that the Republican candidates were supposed to be running on the "wet" side on account of the prohibition question, is also gratuitous. That question was not in issue at all, it was simply whether we should have a good, liberal town government, run in the interest of the people, or one run in the interest of a clique that has held control for so long that now they think it almost hereditary. Col. Cotten was no doubt a good officer, but there are many on the other side who are as capable, and to whom the important interests of the town can be as well delegated, and who perhaps would be a little more liberal in dealing with them. We will try at all events. I will keep you posted on the result.

Yours, respectfully,

LIBERAL.

Factors in the Mississippi valley a few weeks ago began the policy of reducing their advances to planters, as compared with last year; and it was naturally supposed that this would result in a diminution of acreage. But we learn that a more liberal policy is now pursued. Considerable English capital has been flowing into New Orleans recently, to be loaned out to planters.

A CALL FOR A STATE CONVENTION

OF COLORED CITIZENS OF NORTH CAROLINA, TO MEET IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH ON THE 17TH OF MAY, 1881

To the Colored Republicans of North Carolina:

We believe that the time has fully come when a thorough understanding and co-operation should be established among the colored people of North Carolina, and that our status as a component part of the body politic of the nation, contributing with our voting population to her numerical strength, with a loyalty to the Republican party as faithful as is the magnet to the pole, should be practically demonstrated by a proper recognition of our manhood, in a just and equitable participation in the governmental affairs of our country.

"He that will not provide for his own household is worse than an Infidel."

The education, progress and elevation of our people, as with all other classes, demand that recognition of merit and qualification which has a tendency to inspire confidence and command respect.

There are more than ninety thousand colored voters in North Carolina—there are less than forty thousand white Republicans in the state. There are more than four hundred thousand dollars a year, in salaries for federal patronage distributed in North Carolina, or which more than three hundred and eighty thousand dollars are distributed among the whites, and less than twenty thousand are distributed among the colored, who constitute the bulk of the Republican party in this state. Is this right?

We have educated young men of our race who are every way qualified to fill positions of profit and trust, yet not a single position of any prominence is accorded them, though identified with, and representing an element, which numerically holds the balance of political power in the state.

"We believe that taxation without representation is unjust."

And that men who will not assert their manhood, advocate the claims of their race, and demand those rights recognized by every principle of justice and equity, deserve the position of serfs and slaves.

We therefore call a convention of colored men of North Carolina to meet in the city of Raleigh, at 12 o'clock m., on Tuesday, the 17th day of May, 1881. Each county will be entitled to twice the number of votes of which she has members in the lower house of the General Assembly. The leading colored men of each county are requested to call meetings in their respective counties, and select their most intelligent men as delegates. Arrangements will be made for reduced rates over all the railroads for those attending the convention.

Trusting that a full and intelligent delegation will be sent from every county, and that an earnest and faithful representative body, guided by wisdom, prudence and harmony, may presage the dawn of a brighter era for our long-suffering and oppressed race; and that ultimately our efforts may, through Providence, be crowned with success.

We are, most respectfully,

Your obedient servants,

New Hanover,
